

Involve Audio is very pleased to announce the Surround Master V2, which will be available in the first quarter of 2019.

Receiving universal accolades, the original Surround Master presented Involve Surround Sound to the world for the very first time. Healthy scepticism at its introduction was quickly replaced with enthusiasm and confidence that the technology did exactly what it claimed by presenting quadraphonic sound faithfully, from stereo, exactly as it was recorded. It was quadraphonic sound as quad was intended and additionally, with the Involve Decode, every stereo recording ever made could now be re-listened to with the added depth of quad. Not only did the Surround Master improve the clarity of the audio played through it, but the improved separation allowed many new elements in the tracks to be heard.

The engineers at Involve have taken the original technology in the Surround Master, improved upon the design and given users more control over their listening experience. The Surround Master V2 has all the features of the original including both Involve 4.0 and 5.1 decode modes & Involve Two Speaker Surround, and now additionally comes as standard with QS decode and SQ 4.0 and 5.1 decode modes so highly appreciated by many audio enthusiasts in upgraded additions of the original Surround Master. Switching between modes has been simplified and is now achieved by turning the Mode selection knob to the desired position, with no need to power cycle the unit.

Input level control with a clipping indicator has been added to give users easier control of their sound system. Individual channel control has also been added, with a range of  $\pm 12$ dB, providing an easy way to achieve a balanced sound system. When switching between modes the indicator LEDs below each output level control light to show when a channel is active. To make system setup easier connections have been simplified to a single set of outputs, Front Left, Front Right, Rear Left, Rear Right, Centre and LFE outputs. When switching between modes the outputs automatically switch to match the mode chosen.

One other clear upgrade for the unit is the improvement from a plastic case to a strong metal case with brushed front and rear faces. Along with clearer, more functional labelling the new case design gives a more technical and refined aesthetic to the Surround Master V2 over its predecessor.

If you have not already plugged a Surround Master into your sound system, we suggest you do. Involve offers a money back guarantee to all users if they are not satisfied with the performance of the Surround Master. To-date not one user has returned their unit for this reason.

The Surround Master V2 will be available in limited quantities in the first quarter of 2019. For those wanting to purchase a unit, orders can be placed through the company's website at www.invoaudio.com

